Introduction

Number 11, Market Hall Street is a half stone, half timber frame cottage dating back to the Eighteenth Century. It is made up of the following: sitting room, kitchen/breakfast room, two bedrooms and family bathroom.

Property Description

Entry begins into an entrance hall with stairs to the first floor. To the left is a welcoming sitting room with front aspect and a selection of handsome timber beams. The room benefits from having wall lighting and open connection to the kitchen/breakfast room through a curved open hatch. The kitchen has a selection of wall and base units with housing for a dishwasher and fridge/freezer. There is a door leading out into a small rear courtyard which would be ideal for the siting of a small bistro table. There is also a built in bench in the corner of the kitchen which could become a perfect spot for dining once a table is added.

On the first floor is a landing with stairs to the second floor and a door on the left leading to a generously sized double bedroom. The bedroom has partially exposed A frame, two cottage style windows and built in storage cupboards with sliding doors. To the right, and accessed on the landing is a bathroom lit by a velux roof light and additional window for added ventilation and light. There is a bath, hand basin, WC, radiator and airing cupboard which houses the boiler.

On the second floor and approached by a well lit landing and stairwell is a room in the eaves with dual aspect velux windows. The room could be a single bedroom or would make a great home office/hobby space or second sitting room.

The cottage has a small enclosed courtyard area to the rear which is accessed from the kitchen. There is no parking with the property but there are two Car Parks nearby, both free: One in Markethall Street and the other in Lovers Lane. These operate on a 'First Come, First Served' basis.

Location

Kington is an historic market town on the English/Welsh border, and though on the western side of Offa's Dyke, it has been an English town for a thousand years. The town still has a regular livestock market, weekly Country Market and regular Local Food and Craft Market and monthly Art, Craft and Vintage Market plus the popular Festive Food from the Borders. The town possesses a most attractive riverside recreation ground which houses the town's cricket club and is the venue for many local outdoor events. Kington Golf Club's 18-hole course on Bradnor Hill is said to be the highest in England, over 390 metres above sea level. It is a "Border Town" in the Marches in an area where it rightly claims to be a centre for walking and hosts its own annual walking festival Kington Walks in September. Also the Spring Walking Festival in April. The local countryside can also offer quiet country lanes for those visitors who prefer to cycle. The west end of Kington is dominated by the tall clock tower commemorating Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee in 1887. Adjacent to this is Kington's Museum. On the edge of Kington can be found Hergest Croft Gardens where you can enjoy naturally landscaped gardens with two national collections of trees. You can also visit The Small Breeds Farm Park and Owl Centre at Kingswood, Kington.

The property is located within walking distance of the town centre with two public car parks situated nearby. Kington town is well catered for offering a number of individual shops, post office, library, supermarkets, a doctors surgery, a leisure centre plus nursery, primary and secondary schooling. The nearby town of Presteigne is just 6 miles with the historic market town of Leominster some 16 miles and the Cathedral City of Hereford approximately 20 miles away.
