Property Description

Welcoming entry to the lovely Thayers is into a light filled entrance hallway with space for decorative furniture to hold coats and shoes. Immediately beyond is a utility room with space for a washing machine and tumble dryer, wall and base units and a door providing access to the rear garden for washing those green fingers or housing dirty wellies. Back into the hallway that leads past the ground floor WC and large under stairs storage cupboards is entry into a bright dual aspect kitchen/diner. There is ample room for central table and chairs, dresser, larger fridge/freezer, a range of wall and base units and seating under the window that benefits from a front aspect enjoying views of the Herefordshire countryside. Conveniently adjoined is the light filled sun room that again overlooks the rural countryside beyond and a fantastic place for enjoying that morning coffee or evening tipple. Alternatively, double doors make a welcoming entry into a well proportioned sitting room with an additional set of doors leading out into the rear garden. Doors could be opened to both the garden and conservatory from here creating a lovely circulation of Summer breeze across the room. However, for those winter months the handsome wood burner makes for cosy TV watching. Off the hallway is a single bedroom with window over the rear garden but could also be used as a study room or home office. The remaining bedrooms within the main house are accessed via the central staircase that is again flooded with light due to the effective placement of a window that illuminates the stairs and landing area above. On this level are two bedrooms housed amongst the eaves. Both bedrooms are good sized doubles with countryside views, plentiful room for wardrobes and drawer sets and one having its own dressing room that could become an en-suite with the necessary arrangements. Both the bedrooms share a generously sized bathroom with circular power shower, basin with vanity housing and an attractive roll top bath, contemporary, vertical towel radiator and window allowing ventilation and light to fill the space. This floor also benefits from having a very useful airing cupboard.

Adjoining the main residence is a two bedroom annexe that would have its own access and suit multi-generational living arrangements but could alternatively be incorporated into the main house creating a substantially sized family home.

The annexe is entered from the front driveway across a private patio area and through double doors that create a welcoming entrance area and also a private, bright sitting opportunity. The stairs are located here to a roof space currently used as a bedroom but due to the placement of a velux window could be a home office or hobby room. Beyond the stairs is access into a second room currently used as a bedroom on ground floor level that conveniently accesses a modern and well equipped bathroom with large shower, WC and basin and a separate kitchen area with sink under a window over looking the rear garden, base and wall units and space for a microwave and other work top electrical items.

Garden

The front garden is mainly laid to lawn with several areas of mature tree and bush planting and enjoys views of the countryside beyond. There is a perfect sunny spot just outside the Sun Room with space for a table and chairs for al fresco dining or simply reading a good book. The rear garden is mainly paved and framed with thoughtfully planted raised beds that would act as a useful vegetable garden. There is space for a garden shed and/or greenhouse.

Garage & Parking

The property benefits from ample off road, driveway parking and a double garage with traffic doors, light and power. There are also stores for storing winter logs.

Location

Edwyn Ralph is a small, rural village North East of Hereford with its own village hall and the church of St Michael. The local council portray it as such: "a rewarding place to live and work having grown only modestly whilst retaining its uniquely tranquil rural character and its rich legacy of historical buildings and monuments, natural habitats, trees and woodlands and expansive vistas from its elevated position". The nearby town of Bromyard (3 miles) provides amenities to include: doctors, dentists, secondary school, eateries, supermarket and shops (to include the renowned Legges of Bromyard). Bredenbury Primary School rated as outstanding by Ofsted in 2008 is 3 miles from the property.
