Surrounded by unspoilt countryside, it provides an idyllic rural lifestyle while remaining well-connected to nearby towns and cities.

The village is steeped in history and is perhaps best known for the nearby Tyndale Monument - an iconic local landmark commemorating William Tyndale, a pioneering figure in the translation of the Bible into English. With far-reaching views across the Severn Vale, the monument is a popular walking destination and a proud symbol of the area's cultural heritage.

North Nibley enjoys a traditional village atmosphere and a welcoming, active community. Local amenities include a highly regarded primary school, a well-loved pub, a parish church, and a tea-room/café perfect for enjoying a coffee with neighbours.

A wide range of countryside pursuits can be enjoyed in the surrounding area, including walking, cycling, horse riding, and golf. Despite its peaceful, tucked-away setting, the village is just a short drive from the market towns of Wotton-under-Edge and Dursley, and within easy reach of the M5 motorway, offering convenient links to Bristol, Cheltenham, Gloucester, and beyond
