Heath is a popular and well-established village on the outskirts of Chesterfield, offering a pleasant blend of village charm, everyday convenience and easy access to the surrounding countryside. The area is particularly appealing to families and professionals, with a range of local amenities, schools, shops and traditional pubs close at hand.

The village enjoys excellent transport links, with Chesterfield town centre just a short drive away, providing a wider selection of shops, restaurants, leisure facilities and amenities. The nearby road network also gives straightforward access to the M1, making Sheffield, Nottingham and the wider region readily accessible.

For those who enjoy the outdoors, Heath benefits from its attractive semi-rural setting, with plenty of opportunities for walking and exploring the surrounding Derbyshire countryside. The combination of a welcoming community, convenient location and access to open space makes Heath a desirable place to call home.

The property has been severely damaged by fire and the owners have been advised that the property is structurally sound, but will require a total rip-out & refurb.
