Anti Money Laundering

Finally, recent HMRC changes have put a much greater emphasis on the importance of sellers complying with very stringent regulations associated with anti-money laundering. Due to the gravity of this and the potential serious financial penalties for not complying, unlike some of our competitors we take this very seriously and do not wish to place either ourselves or clients in a difficult position. On that basis you will be contacted by a third party firm to carry out these checks for a fee which will indemnify both you and us from any future prosecution. There is a charge of £45 per individual named on the title Deeds, therefore when Coadjute contact you to confirm instructions, they will also ask you to make this payment.
