Tucked away off Forest Hill Road, sandwiched between several green spaces (which include Peckham Rye and a golf club) is a small number of roads well known for their stunning period properties and grandeur. Marmora Road is arguably one of the most popular roads in this catchment. Wide and tree lined, the road is full of imposing, ornate, period buildings which we believe buyers will find eye catching.

This property which is a share of freehold is a ground floor garden flat offering over 1000 sq ft of space much of which is occupied by the substantial and striking open plan kitchen, diner, and lounge. The lounge has a south easterly facing bay window, a stunning feature fireplace with a grand surround as well period style radiator and is connected the kitchen area via double bifold doors allowing separation between the two spaces if desired.

The property has both front and rear garden space which is rare, however the rear garden in particular is a striking feature of the property due to its size and layout. Its circa 68ft in length with a decked area to the rear. This will be such a desirable feature to many buyers as gardens of this size are uncommon in flats.

The entrance to the property is not shared which is another nice feature. Having your own front door (not accessed by a communal entrance) is a great feature as it offers privacy and separation from the other flats in the building.

The bedrooms are both double in size which is representative of the overall size however unusually the entrance hall is generous.

The local area offers a plethora of shops, restaurants and local amenities. A lot of the bars and restaurants are family owned and provide a very unique village feel appreciated by local residents.
