The Location

Discover Mousehole: A Picture-Perfect Cornish Haven

Nestled on the rugged southwest coast of Cornwall, Mousehole (pronounced "Mowzel") is a storybook fishing village where time seems to slow down. With its narrow, winding streets, honey-hued granite cottages, and a picturesque harbour that twinkles with lights at Christmas, it's easy to see why Dylan Thomas called it "the loveliest village in England."

The village is perfect for those who love the outdoors, with stunning coastal path walks offering breathtaking sea views, while artists and photographers are drawn here for the ever-changing light and dramatic landscapes. The calm waters of the harbour make it ideal for paddleboarding and kayaking, while keen cyclists can take on the rolling Cornish countryside.

Despite its quiet charm, Mousehole is well connected. It's just three miles from Penzance, where you'll find larger supermarkets, a hospital, and a mainline train station offering direct services to London Paddington. St Ives is around a 30-minute drive—perfect for a day out exploring art galleries and sandy beaches. For those needing to travel further afield, Newquay Airport is about an hour's drive away, providing flights to major UK cities and some European destinations.

Families will find excellent local schools, with Mousehole Primary School in the village itself and a range of secondary options in nearby Penzance. Food lovers will be spoilt for choice, with cosy pubs and seafood restaurants serving up the freshest local catch.

If you dream of living by the sea, where the sound of waves is your morning alarm and a stroll along the harbour is part of daily life, Mousehole offers an unbeatable setting. Whether you're an artist inspired by the landscape, a retiree looking for tranquillity, or a family wanting a friendly coastal community, this hidden gem has something for everyone.
