A characterful stone built terrace in a sought after Pudsey cul-de-sac, set over three floors and offering far more space than first meets the eye, including a versatile loft room and private rear garden.

This is a home that blends period charm with flexible modern living. High ceilings and original detailing immediately give it presence, while the layout across three levels makes it ideal for first time buyers, young families or those needing work from home space.

The main living room to the front is impressive in both scale and feel. A south-facing bay window brings in excellent natural light, complemented by a ceiling rose, decorative corning, hardwood flooring and a gas fireplace that creates a strong focal point.

To the rear, the kitchen diner offers generous proportions with modern wall and base units, tiled splashbacks and an integral oven. Larger than many other terraces, there is space for a proper dining table, making it a practical everyday space as well as somewhere to host. From here you have access to the rear garden and the useful cellar, ideal for storage.

Upstairs, the main bedroom is a spacious double to the front with two windows that bathe in sunshine, also benefitting from excellent storage space. The second bedroom sits quietly to the rear and works perfectly as a single bedroom, nursery or home office. The bathroom is large, neutrally tiled, fitted with a bath and shower over, plus a heated towel rail.

The loft room occupies the top floor and is accessed via a second staircase from the first floor, making it a fully integrated and usable space rather than a simple hatch conversion. With a velux window and eaves storage, it is currently used as a bedroom and offers valuable additional flexibility that many terraces simply do not have.

Externally, there are gardens to both the front and rear. The rear garden has been designed for low maintenance, with paving and artificial lawn creating a private space ideal for summer seating, BBQs and entertaining. Council Tax Band B.
