About Hartfell Homes

Hartfell Homes & Developments Limited have been developing and building innovative homes within thoughtfully planned-out communities for well over 20 years around Moffat, Dumfries and Galloway, Scotland. Our ambition is simple, to design and build quality homes that you'll aspire to and want to live in.

To achieve that ambition, every stage of construction - from initial ground and foundation works - all the way through to external and internal 'finishes' are personally supervised by a director of Hartfell Homes. Only when we are satisfied with overall build quality and all finishes, are we then ready to hand our houses over to you, our new home owner, to begin your journey of making our house into your brand new home. But our journey in creating your home doesn't stop there.

Our 'Aftercare' is second to none and we pride ourselves in providing a friendly, easily accessible and efficient after-sales service for our home owners, so we can take care of your home after you've moved in. Hartfell's passion, pride, commitment and enthusiasm is at the heart of every home we build.

We look forward to welcoming you to Auldtoun Park and introducing you to your new dream home!
