Summary

This charming mid-terrace cottage, dating back to around 1850, is brimming with character and period appeal. Offering two generously sized bedrooms and a cosy reception room complete with a log-burning stove, the property provides a warm and inviting living space ideal for relaxing evenings at home. The accommodation is further complemented by a well-equipped kitchen and a bathroom.

To the rear, the enclosed south-facing garden enjoys plenty of sunshine throughout the day, creating the perfect spot for outdoor dining or unwinding in the warmer months. The property also benefits from off-street parking for one vehicle — a valuable feature in this highly desirable location.

Ideally situated close to the beautiful Yeadon Tarn, the home offers easy access to scenic walks, open green spaces and a range of local amenities. With its welcoming community atmosphere and excellent surroundings, Yeadon continues to be a popular place to live.

Combining timeless charm with everyday practicality, this delightful cottage presents a wonderful opportunity for those seeking a characterful home in a sought-after setting.
