Charles Cobb Close, Dymchurch, Romney Marsh

Offers In Excess Of £500,000

There are few things more valuable than space, and fewer still that combine it with the rhythm of coastal living. Occupying one of Dymchurch's most desirable residential settings, this substantial detached home sits on an exceptionally rare corner plot situated opposite the all year round dog friendly beach, creating a lifestyle that's as much about its surroundings as it is the home itself. Just a short walk from the seawall and village centre, it offers the rare combination of space, privacy and coastal convenience.

Designed with family life in mind, the house unfolds effortlessly from the moment you step inside. A welcoming entrance hall leads to a collection of beautifully proportioned rooms, each with its own purpose yet connected by a natural sense of flow. The generous lounge provides a calm retreat, while double doors open into the dining room, allowing the spaces to work equally well for relaxed evenings or larger gatherings.

At the heart of the home, the expansive kitchen and breakfast room is where everyday life naturally centres. Whether it's slow weekend breakfasts, helping with homework around the table or entertaining friends, it's a room designed to bring people together. A separate utility room keeps daily routines discreetly tucked away and offers internal access to the garage, while the ground-floor study provides valuable flexibility as a home office, snug or playroom.

Upstairs, four well-balanced bedrooms offer comfortable accommodation for growing families. The principal bedroom enjoys the luxury of a generous new en-suite shower room, while the remaining bedrooms are served by a contemporary family bathroom, creating a layout that's both practical and adaptable.

Outside, the plot is every bit as impressive as the accommodation. Mature lawns wrap around the rear and side of the property creating a wonderful sense of openness and privacy that's increasingly difficult to find with a south east facing aspect.
