Tetherstones, Barrs Road, Cradley Heath, B647HB

A genuine rare find and timeless example of a stunning period home rich in character. Demonstrating a commanding and prominent elevated position with wrap around gardens and grounds; the property previously had lapsed planning permission for a separate detached dwelling. Having been sympathetically refashioned with delicate modern touches and contemporary interiors; the property still retains many original features including the ornate stained glass entrance noticed on arrival. To give any discerning buyers an overview of the accommodation on offer; the property in brief comprises of: grand reception hall complete with solid wood flooring, formal dining room with feature fire place and bay window, separate extended lounge with skylights and bi-folding doors leading to rear garden, modern and well-thought-out kitchen breakfast room with Silestone work surfaces, integrated appliances and larger cupboard with guest cloakroom completing the ground floor. With carpet runner and feature spindles enhancing the already charming staircase leads to a gallery-style landing, three double bedrooms, two with built-in wardrobes and elegant house bathroom with clawfoot freestanding bath and separate shower. Further enhancements could be added by converting the loft or completing a side extension to create additional bedrooms STPP. The rear garden is well established and beautifully mature with various trees and foliage as well as a hidden underground 'bunker' paying homage to the properties past. Benefits also include a large driveway and garage located at the foot of the property and is well placed to nearby Haden Hill Park, Old Hill and Cradley Heath Stations and reputable schooling. Properties like these are only available once in a while and an opportunity not to be missed.
