The Home -

Set along one of Lower Clapton's established residential streets, this three-bedroom Victorian house combines impressive proportions and original architectural detail with a wonderfully deep rear garden. Arranged across two main floors, with a substantial cellar below, the house extends to approximately 1,118 sq ft excluding the cellar, or around 1,445 sq ft including it.

There is plenty here to work with. Tall ceilings, decorative cornicing, original floorboards, fireplaces and bay windows provide the framework of a classic Victorian home, while the existing layout offers an exciting opportunity for a new owner to make their mark.

Rushmore Road is located in one of Lower Clapton's most desired areas, only moments from Millfields Park and Chatsworth Road.

Offers in excess of £1,150,000

The Indoors

The ground floor begins with a bright front reception room, where a wide bay window draws in plenty of natural light. Original timber floorboards run underfoot, while elaborate cornicing and a cast-iron fireplace bring texture and character to the otherwise pared-back space.

An opening connects the front room with the second reception, currently arranged for dining. This is another characterful room, with further decorative plasterwork, exposed floorboards and a second cast-iron fireplace. Tall glazed doors at the rear open directly to the garden, creating a natural connection between the living spaces and outside.

Beyond lies the separate kitchen, stretching to over 17 ft in length. White cabinetry keeps things simple, while windows along the side and rear bring in good natural light. A door provides another direct route into the garden.

Upstairs are three bedrooms. The main bedroom occupies the full width of the front of the house and is particularly impressive at approximately 16'1" x 13'9". A broad bay window, fireplace and excellent proportions give the room a lovely sense of scale.

Two further bedrooms sit towards the rear, making the arrangement well suited to family life, guests or working from home. A family bathroom completes the first floor.

Below the house is a particularly substantial cellar of approximately 326 sq ft. Currently separate from the main accommodation, it provides excellent storage and could offer interesting longer-term possibilities, subject of course to the necessary permissions.

The Outdoors

The rear garden is one of the house's standout features, extending to approximately 36 ft and feeling notably private behind mature planting. Its depth gives plenty of scope for landscaping, entertaining and planting, while an existing garden building sits at the far end.

With direct access from both the dining room and kitchen, there is also obvious potential to rethink the relationship between house and garden over time. For someone looking for a Victorian house they can gradually shape around their own way of living, the bones are very good indeed.
