This dormer-style, detached bungalow in Erdington offers truly impressive internal proportions, far exceeding its initial exterior impression and presents a rare opportunity for further development and customisation. Lovingly maintained throughout its current tenure, the home combines generous living space with immense potential, making it a particularly exciting prospect for discerning buyers. Perfectly positioned within walking distance of a variety of local amenities and facilities, the property also benefits from excellent transport connections. Comprehensive shopping and leisure outlets are easily accessible via the many readily available bus services, providing convenient links to surrounding town and city centre locations. Internally, the property is well-appointed with gas central heating and PVC double glazing (both where specified) and briefly comprises: a welcoming porch, deep entrance hall with cloak storage and separate WC, a spacious family lounge, shower room, dining room, and fitted kitchen. A double bedroom is also conveniently situated on the ground floor. Upstairs, a superb master suite occupies much of the dormer space, complete with en-suite bathroom, additional WC, and a walk-in wardrobe. Across the landing, a further room offers excellent versatility as a home office or potential bedroom. Externally, the home is approached behind immaculate lawns and attractively planted shrub borders. A considerable garage, accessed via an electric up-and-over door, adds both practicality and secure storage. To the rear, a private garden with mature perimeter planting provides a pleasant outdoor retreat. With its combination of space, charm, and scope for enhancement, this deceptively spacious bungalow demands internal inspection to be fully appreciated. EPC Rating D.
