An exceptional opportunity to acquire a stunningly situated period stone farmhouse with adjoining barn, further barns and over 80 acres of land in a sought after area of countryside.

The property is set in a peaceful, rural location with outstanding views and lends itself for complete modernisation and reconfiguration.

The stone farmhouse dates probably from the 1600's and will be an exciting project for a new owner. The adjoining stone barn would be readily included within any refurbishment subject to planning and in addition there are some other farm buildings.

Description

This is a traditional stone farmhouse built high in a moorland setting and comprises 3 Bedrooms and bathroom to the first floor and two reception rooms on the ground floor.

The property requires complete renovation but it is a good solid stone house of considerable age.

The stone barn comprises of two parts and it seems likely that this would be incorporated into a remodelled residence.

All the land is laid to pasture although we understand that in the past some of it has been ploughed and used for arable cropping.

Viewing is essential to appreciate the location and the possibilities that this property offers.

Externally

The outbuildings comprise of a portal framed hay barn with lean-to, a stone shed, disused pig sty and further stables.

The land is set within a ring fence and is all currently laid to pasture. It is divided into a number of sensible sized enclosures in the main separated by dry stone walls.

There may be an opportunity to buy the land in lots subject to discussion with the selling agents.
