Description

Dye House offers a fantastic opportunity to acquire a three-storey stone-built former cottage, boasting planning permission to construct a replacement dwelling, together with a useful out-building in need of renovation, and an adjoining parcel of land extending to approx. 1.37 acres, in a popular rural, yet accessible location.

The approved accommodation for a new dwelling spreads across two floors and briefly comprises; on the ground floor an open-plan kitchen dining living space, a lounge, a versatile study, a useful utility space, and a spacious hallway with access to a cloakroom and w/c. The first floor provides two large double bedrooms, each with an ensuite and dressing rooms/built-in storage, two further double bedrooms, and a family bathroom.

To the rear of the cottage, a brick-built building currently situates with commercial status, in need of repairs but with great potential. The remaining four bays offer huge opportunity whether that be for a workshop, home office, garage, or converted into ancillary accommodation (subject to planning consent). The building currently overlooks a courtyard area, hosting a small brick-built garden store in need of restoration.

Together with the cottage and buildings, a field parcel situates adjacent extending to approx. 1.37 acres (0.55 hectares) offering grassland in good heart suitable for both mowing and grazing of livestock and/horses. The parcel of land offers a delightful, private outlook from the cottage and will suit those seeking the 'country lifestyle', or with equestrian, hobby farming or amenity interests. The land is bounded mature hedgerow and post and wire fencing, with good roadside access. Currently, the south-eastern boundary is by way of electric fencing and the purchaser will be responsible for erecting a permanent boundary.

Inspection is highly recommended to appreciate the location and potential on offer to create a unique new-build family home.
