Guide Price £750,000

Guide Price £750,000 - £800,000

This stunning four-bedroom semi-detached house is located on Penderley Road, a quiet residential street in the Culverley Conservation area—one of South-East London's most desirable neighborhoods, known for its wide, tree-lined avenues featuring homes built between 1890 and 1910.

Spread across two floors, the property offers 1,441 sqft of internal space. It features a spacious lounge with an original fireplace and large bay windows at the front. There is also a separate reception room and a modern kitchen/dining area that opens onto a south-west facing garden, creating an excellent summer entertaining space. Additionally, there is a convenient utility room with a window on the side.
