Description

Middle House Farm is an impressive holding set within the historic hamlet of Tredomen, surrounded by the spectacular scenery of the Bannau Brycheiniog National Park. At its heart lies a characterful period farmhouse, believed to date from the early 17th century, offering generous accommodation with the opportunity for sympathetic enhancement to create an exceptional country home.

Extending to approximately 76 acres, the farm comprises productive pasture land, complemented by a small area of broadleaf woodland. A range of traditional farm buildings and stabling provide excellent versatility for agricultural, equestrian or lifestyle pursuits (subject to the necessary consents), while the attractive gardens and grounds, including an orchard and pond, enhance the property's strong rural appeal. Combining a historic farmhouse, traditional buildings and productive land, Middle House Farm represents a rare opportunity to acquire a compact yet highly attractive holding.

Location

Middle House Farmhouse is situated within the historic hamlet of Tredomen, approximately 4 miles west of the market town of Talgarth and around 7 miles north-east of Brecon, within the Bannau Brycheiniog (Brecon Beacons) National Park. The property enjoys a peaceful rural setting surrounded by unspoilt farmland and rolling countryside, whilst remaining within easy reach of a range of everyday amenities. Talgarth offers independent shops, cafés, public houses, a primary school and healthcare facilities, with a wider selection of retail, educational and leisure services available in Brecon. The area is renowned for its outstanding natural beauty and provides excellent access to the Black Mountains, Hay-on-Wye (approximately 11 miles) and an extensive network of walking, cycling and outdoor recreation opportunities. Tredomen itself is a small historic settlement with origins dating back several centuries, contributing to the character and appeal of this attractive rural location.

Middle House Farmhouse

Middle House Farmhouse is a substantial period residence occupying an idyllic position within the historic hamlet of Tredomen, surrounded by the unspoilt landscapes of the Bannau Brycheiniog National Park. Believed to date from the early 17th century, the property is rich in character and architectural interest, combining traditional stone and rendered elevations beneath a slate roof. The accommodation extends to provide well-proportioned family living space, retaining an abundance of period character throughout. Whilst the interiors would now benefit from a degree of modernisation and sympathetic refurbishment, the property offers an exceptional opportunity to create a distinguished country home, perfectly balancing contemporary comforts with its historic heritage.

The property is approached via a generous courtyard providing ample parking and stone garaging, the farmhouse enjoys attractive gardens and a delightful rural outlook, with views across the surrounding Bannau Brycheiniog National Park and Black Mountains. The accommodation is more particularly described as follows:

Buildings

Middle House Farm benefits from a useful range of traditional farm buildings situated to the north of the farmhouse, together with a separate yard area providing independent access and operational flexibility. In addition, there is a stone-built range adjacent to the farmhouse comprising garaging, stabling and stores, offering excellent ancillary accommodation suitable for a variety of agricultural, equestrian and general storage purposes (subject to the necessary consents).

Traditional Building

Comprising an L-shaped traditional farm building of stone and block construction beneath a corrugated sheet roof. Historically utilised for livestock housing and general storage, the buildings benefit from independent access directly from the council-maintained road via a separate yard area. Offering considerable versatility, the range presents potential for a variety of agricultural, equestrian, commercial or alternative uses, subject to the necessary consents.

Garage & Stables

A traditional stone-built outbuilding under a slate roof, comprising two stables, a garage with adjoining concrete apron and two useful stores, providing excellent ancillary accommodation for equestrian, agricultural or general storage purposes.

The Land

The land extends to approximately 75.90 acres in total, comprising productive pasture divided into a series of interconnecting field parcels. Classified as predominantly Grade 2 and 3 under the provisional agricultural land classification, the land has been utilised for grazing livestock, offering strong stocking capabilities and secure boundaries formed by mature mixed-species hedgerows and post-and-wire fencing. Access is taken directly from the council-maintained road via the yard to the north of the farmhouse. There is also direct road frontage access into field parcel 0991.

A small area of established woodland enhances both the ecological and visual appeal of the holding. The land provides a versatile opportunity for commercial agriculture, alongside potential for environmental or diversification schemes, subject to the necessary consents.
