The property has been thoughtfully refurbished in recent years, creating a highly comfortable home enhanced by stylish fixtures and fittings throughout. Upon entering, the sense of quality is immediately apparent, with a generous reception hall leading through to a well-appointed kitchen/diner and a through sitting room that leads into a large conservatory extension. A cloakroom completes the ground-floor layout. Upstairs, there are three double bedrooms, each benefitting from excellent built-in storage, while the master enjoys a spacious en suite shower room. A separate bathroom and WC provide further convenience.

Outside, the home offers a good-sized integral garage, a very useful oak-framed car port and ample off-road parking. The front garden is beautifully landscaped with an array of established planting, while the rear garden is wonderfully private, enclosed and attractively arranged with a garden pond and a patio terrace for outdoor enjoyment complemented by a range of useful outbuildings.

LOCATION

Located within the sought-after Moons Hill conservation area, the property enjoys a tucked away position and offers easy access to miles of coastal and countryside walks via a network of nearby footpaths and bridleways. The well-regarded High Down Inn is close by, while Totland Bay provides everyday amenities including a post office, along with a beautiful beach celebrated for its sunsets and the popular Waterfront bar and restaurant.

The sandy shores of Colwell and Freshwater Bays are only a short drive away, as are Alum Bay, the iconic Needles and the wider facilities in Freshwater village. The historic harbour town of Yarmouth, with its mainland ferry connections and excellent sailing opportunities, is around ten minutes by car, making this an appealing choice for both full-time living and holiday use.
