Grand Designs Project

Merelake Road, Alsager, ST7 1UF

Guide Price £335,000

Description

The former Ridley Reservoir sat upon a parcel of land that extends 0.42 Acre, set within a rural part of the Alsager with extensive views of the surrounding country side.

Full planning consent was granted in 2019 for conversion of the existing premises to form an exclusive 4 bedroom detached house complete with internal swimming poool and over 7,500 sq.ft of living space (including plant room & storage - 8,600 sq.ft).

Significant progress has already been made on the development, with works to date including;

- Full Site / Tree clearance
- Complete ground excavation and soil removal
- Excavation for the planned extension
- External concrete works including driveways
- Retaining wall construction (50% complete)
- Structural openings cut through 1m-thick concrete
- Full removal of original flooring and installation of a lowered structural floor
- Replacement of all original brick columns with new structural steel
- Structural steel installed to create open-plan kitchen/living area
- Internal wall construction
- External blockwork installed to roof level with stainless tie bars
- Roof openings created for light pods
- All major structural works to the main building completed
- Structural steel installed for window framework

Our understanding is that all works to date have been signed off by Building Control - further details of this are available upon request.

Location

Ridley Reservoir is located on the semi-rural southern edge of Alsager, bordering the Alsager Golf and Country Club and the Merelake Way wildlife trail. The immediate residential housing mix along Merelake Road predominantly comprises low-density, freehold detached houses and character cottages, while the wider town offers an array of multi-generational semi-detached / detached family homes . Essential town centre amenities—including independent cafes, everyday shops, and supermarkets—are accessible roughly one mile north. For schooling, the site falls within the catchment of highly regarded primary options like Excalibur and St Gabriel's, alongside the well-respected Alsager School for secondary education. Transport links are excellent; Alsager Railway Station is located approximately 2 km (1.2 miles) away, offering direct train services to Stoke-on-Trent and Crewe, while motorists benefit from fast proximity to the A500 and the M6 motorway corridor for regional commuting.

Planning & Supporting Information.
