Description

The property is a traditional brick construction semi-detached single storey building under a pitched clay tiled roof. The property fronts Newcastle Road, having an entrance to the front with windows within the front and rear elevations.

The building is set back from the road and orientated with the front facing North West. There is no vehicle access or parking at the property. To the rear of the property are two doors, one leading onto a small yard off which is a former outside WC and to the other side, a similar size yard with brick built store.

The main entrance leads into a hallway/lobby with disabled toilet with primary access into a large main room with two doorways, one at the front into a store and boiler room and another into a kitchen at the rear of the property. We were advised that the front store/boiler room was the original entrance to the property however there is no external door, having been blocked up when the conversion took place.

Location

The property is located on Newcastle Road in Baldwins Gate, approximately six miles to the South West of Newcastle under Lyme and eight miles from Stoke-on-Trent. The northern towns of the Stoke-on-Trent conurbation including the City Centre, Hanley, located between the A53 and the A500 are easily accessible from Baldwins Gate. The A500 is a major urban expressway which runs through the heart of the North Staffordshire conurbation providing a direct link between junctions 15 and 16 of the M6 Motorway. It also provides access to the towns south of the City Centre and the A34 which locally connects Newcastle-under-Lyme through to Stafford however expanding from that, the A34 is a major route between Manchester and Birmingham.

Addendum

Check the latest addendum at buttersjohnbee.com for any alterations or changes to the catalogue.

Guide Price

An indication of the seller's current minimum acceptable price at auction. The guide price or range of guide prices is given to assist consumers in deciding whether or not to pursue a purchase. It is usual, but not always the case, that a provisional reserve range is agreed between the seller and the auctioneer at the start of marketing. As the reserve is not fixed at this stage and can be adjusted by the seller at any time up to the day of the auction in the light of interest shown during the marketing period, a guide price is issued. This guide price can be shown in the form of a minimum and maximum price range within which an acceptable sale price (reserve) would fall, or as a single price figure within 10% of which the minimum acceptable price (reserve) would fall. A guide price is different to a reserve price (see separate definition). Both the guide price and the reserve price can be subject to change up to and including the day of the auction.

Reserve Price

The seller's minimum acceptable price at auction and the figure below which the auctioneer cannot sell. The reserve price is not disclosed and remains confidential between the seller and the auctioneer. Both the guide price and the reserve price can be subject to change up to and including the day of the auction.
