Set within the ever-popular NR3 area of Norwich, this beautifully presented two-bedroom mid-terrace Victorian home offers a wonderful blend of period charm and unique outdoor space, including a rare south-facing balcony with views towards the cathedral.

The property retains many attractive original features, creating a warm and characterful feel throughout. The ground floor accommodation begins with a welcoming lounge featuring an original cast-iron fireplace and decorative ceiling rose, while the adjoining dining room also benefits from a further cast-iron fireplace, and a fully glazed rear door, allowing for plenty of natural light. To the rear of the property is a well-appointed kitchen along with a modern ground floor bathroom.

Upstairs, the first floor offers two double bedrooms accessed off the landing, both continuing the home's period charm with their own Victorian cast-iron fireplaces. The second bedroom enjoys the added benefit of an en-suite bathroom and doors opening onto an impressive balcony. Large enough to accommodate a seating area or table, this elevated outdoor space enjoys a desirable south-facing aspect with attractive views towards the cathedral - an exceptionally rare feature for a Victorian terrace in the north city.

Outside, the property is approached via a low-maintenance front garden, while to the rear there is a generous south-facing garden, with both lawned and decking areas. Immediately to the rear of the property there is a right of way.
