This bay fronted period home retains many original features with four panel internal doors and stripped natural wood floors in evidence. A log burner has been installed in the front sitting room, there is a 'living flame' coal effect gas fire in the lounge and the windows to the front elevation have been replaced with sash style uPVC double glazed units. The main bedroom features sleek courtesy-lit built-in wardrobes with hanging and shelved space and the loft is boarded. Popular with individuals and families alike, the Castle Road area features a range of pubs and restaurants and is within walking distance of Bedford's town centre.
