Parrs Mount Mews is a sumptuous part of the areas local history. Formerly a stable to the main mansion house it dates back to the early 1800's. You enter the courtyard through an impressive gated entrance and cross over a pebble stone walk way under a covered passageway and find converted in the 20th century these charming cottages.

This is truly a bijou home, only one bedroom, but so well proportioned with a cosy and charming lounge, open plan to the kitchen, independent of the bedroom is a well proportioned bathroom.

The property does require some updating but is evidently liveable and represents an exciting opportunity.

Heaton Mersey is a highly sought after village with delightful conservation area, excellent local shops with easy proximity to Didsbury and Heaton Moor, whilst the motorway, international airport and main line train stations and Metrolink are within easy reach.

It's an exciting time to be buying in the area with a billion pounds regeneration of Stockport destined to make it one of the North West's prime shopping and residential locations.
